

The N.O.

BAND STORY

"AKA : The N.O. , Noldy Birth Date : October 14, 1983 Hometown : Wheeling, WV The N.O., short for Noldy, a name given to him by his grandfather as young child, is an independent up and coming rap artist with a new and fresh approach to the game. The N.O. derives his lyrics from his own personal experiences along with many inspirations from family and friends. He grew up in a small town in West Virginia and began recording music in the basement of his parents home as a young teen. His musical aspirations became a reality after the death of his grandfather. He began to take his talents seriously and has become one of the most popular local talents. Noldy is not only an exceptional performer, but he writes all of his own lyrics, and engineers his own music. All three attributes combined make the N.O. a triple threat. Noldy was an outstanding athlete and student and was offered many scholarships to play football and baseball at a collegiate level. He put all of those dreams on hold to pursue his true love for music. He is the father of two, which he says " is his greatest accomplishment". Banks looks up to successful artists such as Jay-Z, The Lox, and Eminem. He takes pieces of each of these artists as inspirations and combines it with his own unique style to create a name for himself. He is sought out by artists from all over to collaborate on songs and engineer their tracks. The N.O. is a natural born talent and brings a different dynamic to each and every song. He is referred to as a " diamond in the ruff" and would be a hot commodity to any label. Gaining popularity has made him a headliner at numerous venues. He has performed live in sold out performances throughout West out performances throughout West Virginia and Ohio. He has had great success selling copies of his mixtapes and continues to receive requests for new music. Banks has created numerous independent videos and has got thousands of hits on youtube with positive feedback. His music has been featured on 91.7 FM , a top West Virginia radio station, and was a guest on Mr. Bugz radio show on blogtalkradio.com. Requests for performances continue to pour in due to the respect The N.O. has gained from his fan base. His modesty is admired by many and he continues to thrive to reach his full potential ."
